DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

1. Claims 1, 3-5, and 7-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101. Based on Supreme Court precedent, and recent Federal Circuit decisions, a § 101 process must (1) be tied to another statutory class (such as a particular apparatus) or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or materials) to a different state or thing. Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. 175, 184 (1981); Parker v. Flook, 437 U.S. 584, 588 n.9 (1978); Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 70 (1972); Cochrane v. Deener, 94 U.S. 780, 787-88 (1876). The process steps in claims 1, 3-5, and 7-12 are not tied to another statutory class nor do they execute a transformation. Thus, they are non-statutory.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1, 3-5, and 7-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Huxter (2002/0103724), in view of Kuebert et al (2002/0165729).

Re Claim 1: Huxter discloses attempting a delivery at a primary location (see 109 in Figure 8, [0211]); if the delivery to the primary location fails, communicating a notification to the recipient of an upcoming delivery to a preferred redirection location (see 340 IN Figure 10A, [0017, 0189, 0203]).

However, Huxter fails to disclose selecting the preferred redirection location prior to the delivery, wherein the alternative redirection location is different from the primary location and the preferred redirection location, and receiving a response to the notification from the recipient after a failed delivery, wherein the response to the notification is adapted to change the preferred redirection location to an alternative redirection location, and delivering the parcel to the alternative redirection location. Kuebert discloses selecting the preferred redirection location prior to the delivery and also discloses alternate delivery locations, therefore more than one (see [0028, 0047]). Kuebert also discloses receiving a response to the notification from the recipient after a failed delivery, wherein the response to the notification is adapted to change the preferred redirection location to an alternative redirection location, and delivering the parcel to the alternative redirection location (see Abstract, [0017, 0029, 0041, 0048]). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Huxter's invention with Kuebert's use of selecting an alternate location prior to delivery, and multiple delivery locations in order that "the recipient, sender, or mailer may flexibly change the delivery point of the item (see Kuebert Abstract)."

Re Claim 3: Huxter discloses wherein the notification step comprises an email to the recipient (see 1207 in Figure 4 and [0123]).

Re Claim 4: Huxter discloses wherein the notification step comprises a SMS message to the recipient (see 1206 in Figure 4 and [0123]).

Re Claim 5: Huxter discloses comprising batching manual records of deliveries (see [0182]).

Re Claim 7: Huxter discloses wherein prior to step (a), the method further comprises registering with a delivery service (see Figure 8).

Re Claim 8: Huxter discloses wherein the registration step comprises providing the preferred redirection location to the delivery service (see Figure 8).

Re Claim 9: Huxter discloses wherein the registration step comprises providing the primary location to the delivery service (see Figure 8).

Re Claim 10: Huxter discloses wherein the registration step comprises generating an identifier unique to the recipient (see 101-106 in Figure 8).

Re Claim 11: Huxter discloses wherein the registration step comprises generating an identifier unique to the transaction (see 211 in Figure 9).

Re Claim 12: Huxter discloses wherein the primary location is a residential address of the recipient (see [0018]) and Figure 39).

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 5/15/2008 have been fully considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
